Ex-display Investment Home

You will hear the waves from this single level ex-display house originally constructed by a premier local builder to generate new business so you can be assured this is a quality home. The architecture, layout and appointments have all been carefully considered and executed.

Architecturally designed, the 3.2 meter high vaulted ceilings invite natural light to the open-plan and north facing living space where glass sliders provide a seamless merge with the alfresco dining area and L-shaped salt water pool. Central to the living area is a large kitchen and butler's pantry. The bench top is huge and inviting. Great for entertaining guests.
